DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-13 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claims 1-13 are allowed since certain key features of the claimed invention are not taught or fairly suggested by prior art. In claim 1, “the light reflection area comprises a plurality of subareas including a first subarea in which the incident light is modulated and reflected in a brightness change range within which a brightness of a reflected light is variable and a hue change range within which a hue of a chromatic color assumed by a reflected light is variable and a second subarea provided with a color filter in which incident light is modulated and reflected in a brightness change range within which a brightness of a reflected light is variable, wherein in the light transmission area, the incident light is modulated in a brightness change range within which a brightness of a transmitted light is variable, wherein said light source is periodically switched at least between two lights different in color, and wherein said apparatus further comprises means for performing the modulation in the light transmission area in synchronism with the switching in color of said light source”. In claim 11, “wherein said pixel has a plurality of areas including a first area in which incident light from a front surface of said display panel is modulated and reflected in a brightness change range within which a brightness of a reflected light is variable and a hue change range within which a hue of a chromatic color assumed by a reflected light is variable, a second area provided with a color filter in which incident light from the front surface of said display panel is modulated and reflected in a brightness change range within which a brightness of a reflected light is variable, and a third area in which incident light from a back surface is modulated and transmitted in a brightness change range within which a brightness of a transmitted light is variable to cause at least two lights different in color to successively and periodically pass through the third area". The closest prior art Asao et al. (2006/0055713 A1) teaches a color display using a medium that has a brightness modulation range and a brightness is changed by the modulation and a plurality of sub-pixels in including a first sub-pixel and a second sub-pixel having a color filter, however, singularly or in combination with other prior art, fail to anticipate or render, at least "means for performing the modulation in the light transmission area in synchronism with the switching in color of said light source" and ... "a third area in which incident light from a back surface is modulated and transmitted in a brightness change range within which a brightness of a transmitted light is variable to cause at least two lights different in color to successively and periodically pass through the third area".

2. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Yoshihara et al. (2007/0063925 A1) teach a liquid crystal display device includes a desired brightness is attained at the overlaid portion of the liquid crystal panels.

Narutaki et al. (2004/00218807 A1) teach a color filter layer and display device comprising a first region and a second region and a color filter layer is different between the first region and the second region.
